CONTENT

Young children want to do things by themselves, including getting dressed, but it isn't so easy. Mia puts on a snowsuit to go to preschool – will that be too warm? In fall she wants to play outside in the rain barefoot – or maybe she should wear rain boots? On each spread, sliding elements change the scene, accompanied by rhyming text, helping children learn what clothing is right for which situations.

THE AUTHOR

Sandra Grimm began her career as an editor and is now a freelance author. Her background as a certified teacher offers a sound basis for her books for children and teenagers. She has three young children with whom she can test all her fun ideas.

THE ILLUSTRATOR

Katja Senner studied communications and has worked as an independent illustrator since her graduation. Her illustrations have been published in numerous books by a number of publishers. She loves painting and extensive walks through the woods.
