ABOUT THE SERIES

The WWW series stands out for its playful, enticing way of conveying just the information that kids want to know. Centered on who-what-how questions, the titles in the series explore subjects of great interest to young children. The thousands of questions children ask daily are answered by means of interactive elements, engaging illustrations, and age-appropriate texts. Because the lively illustrations convey so much, the books hold children's interest even without an adult to read the clear, friendly texts. WWW is ideally suited for preschool and kindergarten ages, for children 4 to 7 years old.

CONTENT

There are many books about horses, but this one has a unique angle: this book approaches the ever-popular topic of horses through the diverse sports that involve riding. It answers all children's question about equestrian vaulting, dressage, show jumping, western riding, horse racing and sports played on horseback, such as polo. What do equestrians use to guide their horses? How do riders stay in the saddle when jumping over tall obstacles? And what happens during a big tournament? The subject of vaulting has its own two-page spread, as it is a popular entree into the world of riding. The book includes removable figures readers can use to practice riding figures.
