

Nina Blazon

Totenbraut

DEAD MAN'S BRIDE

432 pp	Hardcover
Format	14.3 x 21.5 cm
ISBN	978-3-473-35304-0
August 2009	EUR 16.95
Age	Young Adults

Fourteen-year-old Jasna is sold by her father to a Hungarian nobleman as a bride for his son, who is involved in a terrible secret.

CONTENT

1731, in the forests of Serbia: For a handful of gold, Jasna's father sells the girl to a rich nobleman. The mysterious stranger takes the girl to his estate on the border of the Ottoman Empire. There, Jasna is married to his son, Danilo. The young bride quickly figures out that the family is burdened with a terrible curse. Is Danilo really a vampire, as rumor has it in the village? While puzzling incidents occur again and again, Jasna falls under the spell of the fascinating Duschan. But he harbors a dark secret, too . . .

THE AUTHOR

Nina Blazon, born in 1969, studied Slavic and German Studies and completed an internship in the field of editing. She taught at several universities, wrote copy for an advertising agency for four years, and has been a freelance journalist for daily newspapers and magazines. Since 2003 she has written books for children and teens in the genres of fantasy, historical fiction and mysteries. With her books, Nina Blazon aims to take her readers along on dazzling, exciting journeys from which they return exhilarated and inspired. The author lives and works in Baden-Württemberg.

RIGHTS SOLD

French worldwide; Spanish worldwide

www.foreignrights-ravensburger.com

Florence Roux, e-mail: florence.roux@ravensburger.de, or Lucia Borrero, e-mail: lucia.borrero@ravensburger.de, or Maike Heinemann, e-mail: Maike.Heinemann@ravensburger.de

Ravensburger