The third adventure of Robber Grab, the popular read-aloud classic by bestselling author Gudrun Pausewang.

ABOUT THE SERIES

Robber Grab is not particularly bright, but all the stronger for it. He is so strong that his powerful arm muscles often burst the seams of his sleeves, and he can devour a wild boar with just one bite of his mighty jaws. Oh yes, he sure is scary!

CONTENT

Robber Grab is still in retirement and is bored from morning til night. Fortunately, his birthday is approaching. But then he receives presents that are all wrong. Why would a thief need felt slippers and a walker? But the survival underwear he finds fabulous. Boredom is suddenly a thing of the past when all of his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren show up to visit him and his wife Olli. When he brings the entire gang back to the train, he accidentally leaves with him and is stuck in the town of Bad Schlotterborn without any money for the trip home. He has no other choice: he will have to start stealing again. At home again in the Rabenhorster Forest, there is no time for boredom anymore. A whirlwind hurls Robber Grab and Olli out into the wide world. Their return trip on a pirate ship full of ex-pirates ends back at home in Jucken. To everyone's great joy, the Grab family is joined by a very special grandchild: the first child of their son Ollo and his mermaid wife Aguanta.
