In this new adventure for the superhero team 'The Amazing Three and a Half', the young superheroes of class 6a take a trip with none other than their rivals, neighboring class 6b. The horrid physics teacher Dr. Knarz comes along and has the two classes battle it out in a soccer game. Once again, the trio has to eliminate some really nasty bad guys in a series of adventures.

CONTENT

This time The Amazing Three and a Half are right in the thick of things. Sebastian "The Genius" von Nervkoeter, Barbara "Action-Barbie" Schwemme, Martin "The Chameleon" Koslowski and Martin's imaginary friend Dieter "The Rugrat" are on a class trip to Ober Ranzig, of all places, home of the largest garbage dump in Europe. And they aren't alone. Class 6b ('b' as in bad!) comes along. But even that isn't awful enough. The horrid physics teacher Dr. Knarz has the terrible idea to have 6b and 6a compete against each other in a game of soccer. The trouble is that 6a is the least athletic class in the history of their school. Naturally, however, The Amazing Three and a Half have a plan worthy of superheroes at the ready. With finesse, they eliminate the worst of the bad guys and the game finally ends - peaceably - in a tie.
