ABOUT THE SERIES

For nine-year-old Violet, there is no better place than her Auntie Abigail's flower shop in a small British town. Both of them share a special gift: With the aid of a book of ancient flower recipes that only Violet and her aunt can read, they use flowers to heal and help people. Over the course of the series, Violet is being introduced to the secret flower magic. In each self-contained volume, she solves a major problem, though of course not without a few hiccups. Her friends, twins Jack (Jaqueline) and Zack, everyday life at school and cheeky animals play important roles as well.

CONTENT

Finally, Violet is officially learning magic from Aunt Abigail in the flower shop, but it is hard work! When Mrs. Beetle from social services shows up, however, she has bigger problems. Mrs. Beetle doesn't think Aunt June and Uncle Nick are suitable foster parents for her. Violet is deeply upset, and she doesn't trust the social worker. To figure out what is going on, Violet bakes a cake for Mrs. Beetle and mixes some meadowsweet blossoms into the batter. Anyone who eats them tells the truth, whether they want to or not – and Mrs. Beetle has quite a lot to tell them.

Includes recipe for Aunt Abigail's Secret Chocolate Cake.
