ABOUT THE SERIES

For nine-year-old Violet, there is no better place than her Auntie Abigail's flower shop in a small British town. Both of them share a special gift: With the aid of a book of ancient flower recipes that only Violet and her aunt can read, they use flowers to heal and help people. Over the course of the series, Violet is being introduced to the secret flower magic. In each self-contained volume, she solves a major problem, though of course not without a few hiccups. Her friends, twins Jack (Jaqueline) and Zack, everyday life at school and cheeky animals play important roles as well.

CONTENT

Violet has never look forward to Christmas as much as this year. Finally, her class will be part of the nativity play! Anila, a very nice new student, gets the lead role, but then later backs out, her eyes red from crying. Violet is determined to find out who is behind this, and to save the Christmas celebration, possibly with the help of a little flower magic... This delightful story accompanies Violet through the first 24 days of December and is told in short episodes, one per day. Recipes and ideas for craft projects add to the magic of the advent season.
