ABOUT THE SERIES

The five large, extra-thick stickers are just right for very young children's hands and abilities, encouraging fine motor skills and guaranteeing lots of sticker fun. They can be applied and peeled off over and over again, on the pages of the book or any other smooth surface. If they should get dusty or lose their stickiness, a quick rinse in cold water will restore their self-adhesive quality.

CONTENT

Flamingo, monkey, or polar bear – which one of them is swinging through the trees, and which of them woke up the lion daddy? In this very first book very young children can place the five large animal stickers in the simple yet lively zoo scenes, creating many different funny stories. A brief text on each spread provides hints about where each animal might belong.

THE ILLUSTRATOR

Freelance illustrator Gabriele Dal Lago studied graphic design in Augsburg, followed by work in advertising. Her hobbies include reading, crafts and travel to Sweden, Greece and the Canary Islands. In Gabriele Dal Lago's own words, her illustrations "radiate warmth and joy."
